A letter from the President:

"Never doubt that a small group of caring people can change the world. For, indeed, that's all who ever have."

Margaret Mead.

Dear Friends and Supporters,

As I reminisce about the past 18 years of involvement with the Quincy Humane Society, I am continually amazed at the transformation in our organization! This could not have been possible without the caring community that supported our efforts; not only for those 18 years but for the 135 years since our inception. The face of animal welfare has changed tremendously and as we celebrate our successes, we also ponder the future and what our role will be in continuing to improve the quality of life for animals, not only in our area but across the United States. With our committed staff, Board of Directors, volunteers and supporters, I feel confident we will continue to adapt to the needs of not only the animals but the human population as well.

On July 20 we will celebrate 135 continual years of service to the animals and people of the Quincy area. Stay tuned for some exciting events we have in the planning stages!

Our Mutt Strut theme for 2014 was Bark to The Future to celebrate the 20th year of this successful event. We also saw it as a time to make major changes for future Mutt Strut events. We will be relocating the event to Upper Moorman Park, adding a 5K(9) and expanding activities for children. The new location will provide more parking and a larger area for our event. Our theme for 2015 will be "Paw Wars" (a takeoff from Star Wars) so get your creative juices flowing and look for more information as we continue to plan Mutt Strut 2015!

Change is inevitable and an organization's ability to adapt determines its level of success. At the Quincy Humane Society we embrace change, for change equals progress. Thank you for the opportunity to be a part of this organization and for 135 years of support!

Volunteer Program Updates

Volunteering at the Quincy Humane Society has become somewhat of a family affair for the Hun family. Nicholas (17), Emanuel (15), Magdalen (11), and Julia (10) come in with their mother, Barb, after school close to every day to do daily tasks around the facility. It was because of their hard work, dedication and love for our organization that they were nominated by the former Community Relations Manager, Celeste Hillen, to receive the Marty Higgins Memorial Youth Volunteer of the Year award, honored by the Breakfast Optimist Club. Typically, there is just one recipient for this award; however, the four Hun children were all equally deserving of this award.

This year we held our first "Holiday Breakout" over Christmas and it was a great success! We are looking forward to more foster opportunities for 2015! Thank you to all of our volunteers who open their homes to some of our animals, not just during the holidays but all year round.

January was the first month that we had our first ever "play date" for some of our available dogs at Pet Supplies Plus. We had a wonderful time and we will be having "play dates" every third Saturday of the month! Be sure to stop out and visit our volunteers and some of our available animals.

A Special Thank You To...

Mrs. Drew's 1st Grade Class and Mrs. Zeidler's 3rd Grade Classes from Ellington : Thank you for all of the wonderful toys, blankets, food and homemade dog treats. Our animals love to have an extra treat now and then.

Success Stories

Titan's Story

Titan, a neutered Siamese, was surrendered by his owner when he was around a year and a half. At about five months of age he developed patchy hair loss, which was diagnosed by a veterinarian as compulsive licking and was instructed to wear an Elizabethan collar. The patchy hair loss continued and he was taken to several veterinarians without resolution on the issue. The owner gave Titan frequent medicated baths but after a year without resolution of the issue. The owner gave Titan frequent medicated baths, but after a year without an answer and the impending birth of twins, she decided that she could no longer care for him.

When Titan arrived for surrender, at a first glance, he did not look as though there was anything wrong with him; however, the fur on his back was matted from serious and purulent drainage and had hardened like a carapace. He smelled of infection and had large areas of open purulent skin. In spite of his condition he was a very sweet natured cat. Upon arrival our veterinarian examined him and he was immediately started on antibiotics for the skin infection and was put on a novel protein diet to eliminate food sensitivity, which was a cause of the condition. We had planned to sedate debride the area the next day, but overnight Titan had removed all of the hardened fur.

A consultation was obtained from the Veterinary Teaching Hospital at the University of Missouri. Biopsies were taken, steroids and antibiotics were, again, ordered but this resulted in only short term relief. After four months of a variety of medications and food trials, our veterinarian decided to try Titan on Atopica, a medication used for atopic dermatitis—a disease that is marked by a hypersensitivity to environmental allergens. Within one month all of his lesions were healing and no new areas of hair loss were observed. For the first time...in over a year...Titan was free of discomfort and had a full coat of beautiful fur!

Titan was available for adoption after five months of seeking a cure for his condition. Our next obstacle was to find him a family who understood that, in order to keep disease under control, and to keep Titan as comfortable as possible, he would need to remain on this medication for the rest of his life. He was a beautiful, loving, affectionate cat and had a lot of interest—that is until the long term commitment of this moderately expensive medicine was discussed.

One day, a family came in and fell in love with Titan. After getting to know him, the potential adopter did some research on his condition and talked with her veterinarian. The family made the commitment to take Titan home and has since enjoyed a wonderful companionship with him. He loves to play and snuggle and Titan has brought great joy and laughter to his new home and has made their family complete.

Khaleesi's Story

In June of 2014, Khaleesi, a Terrier, Pit Bull/Mix joined our facility. Khaleesi was here with us for about six months and had lots of puppy energy and playfulness. When visitors would come by to view the animals, Khaleesi, like all over dogs, would get excited and would start jumping for joy. She loved meeting new people and would get excited, anxiously awaiting her opportunity to meet someone new. Khaleesi has a great personality and our staff knew that she would be a wonderful companion once she found the right family.

Unfortunately, when animals are in a shelter for a while they tend to get a little stir crazy. When visitors come to the kennel area, a majority of people base their opinions on the look and mannerisms of the dog while in their kennel. Visitors sometimes forget to overlook the behaviors the dog may present when in the kennel and miss out on the opportunity of seeing the great qualities the animal possesses outside of the kennel. This happened to be the case for Khaleesi.

During the last month that Khaleesi was with us, we had a volunteer, who is enrolled in our foster program, take Khaleesi in as a foster. This foster experience was a little different than most foster situations. This foster would take Khaleesi to her house every evening and would bring her back during viewing hours every day. This unique opportunity provided Khaleesi with plenty of socialization, with different people, children of all ages and with other animals.
